Lobbyist Registration & Reporting Process

Lobbyist files L-1
& biography
forms. Lobbyist
employer signs off
on L-1.

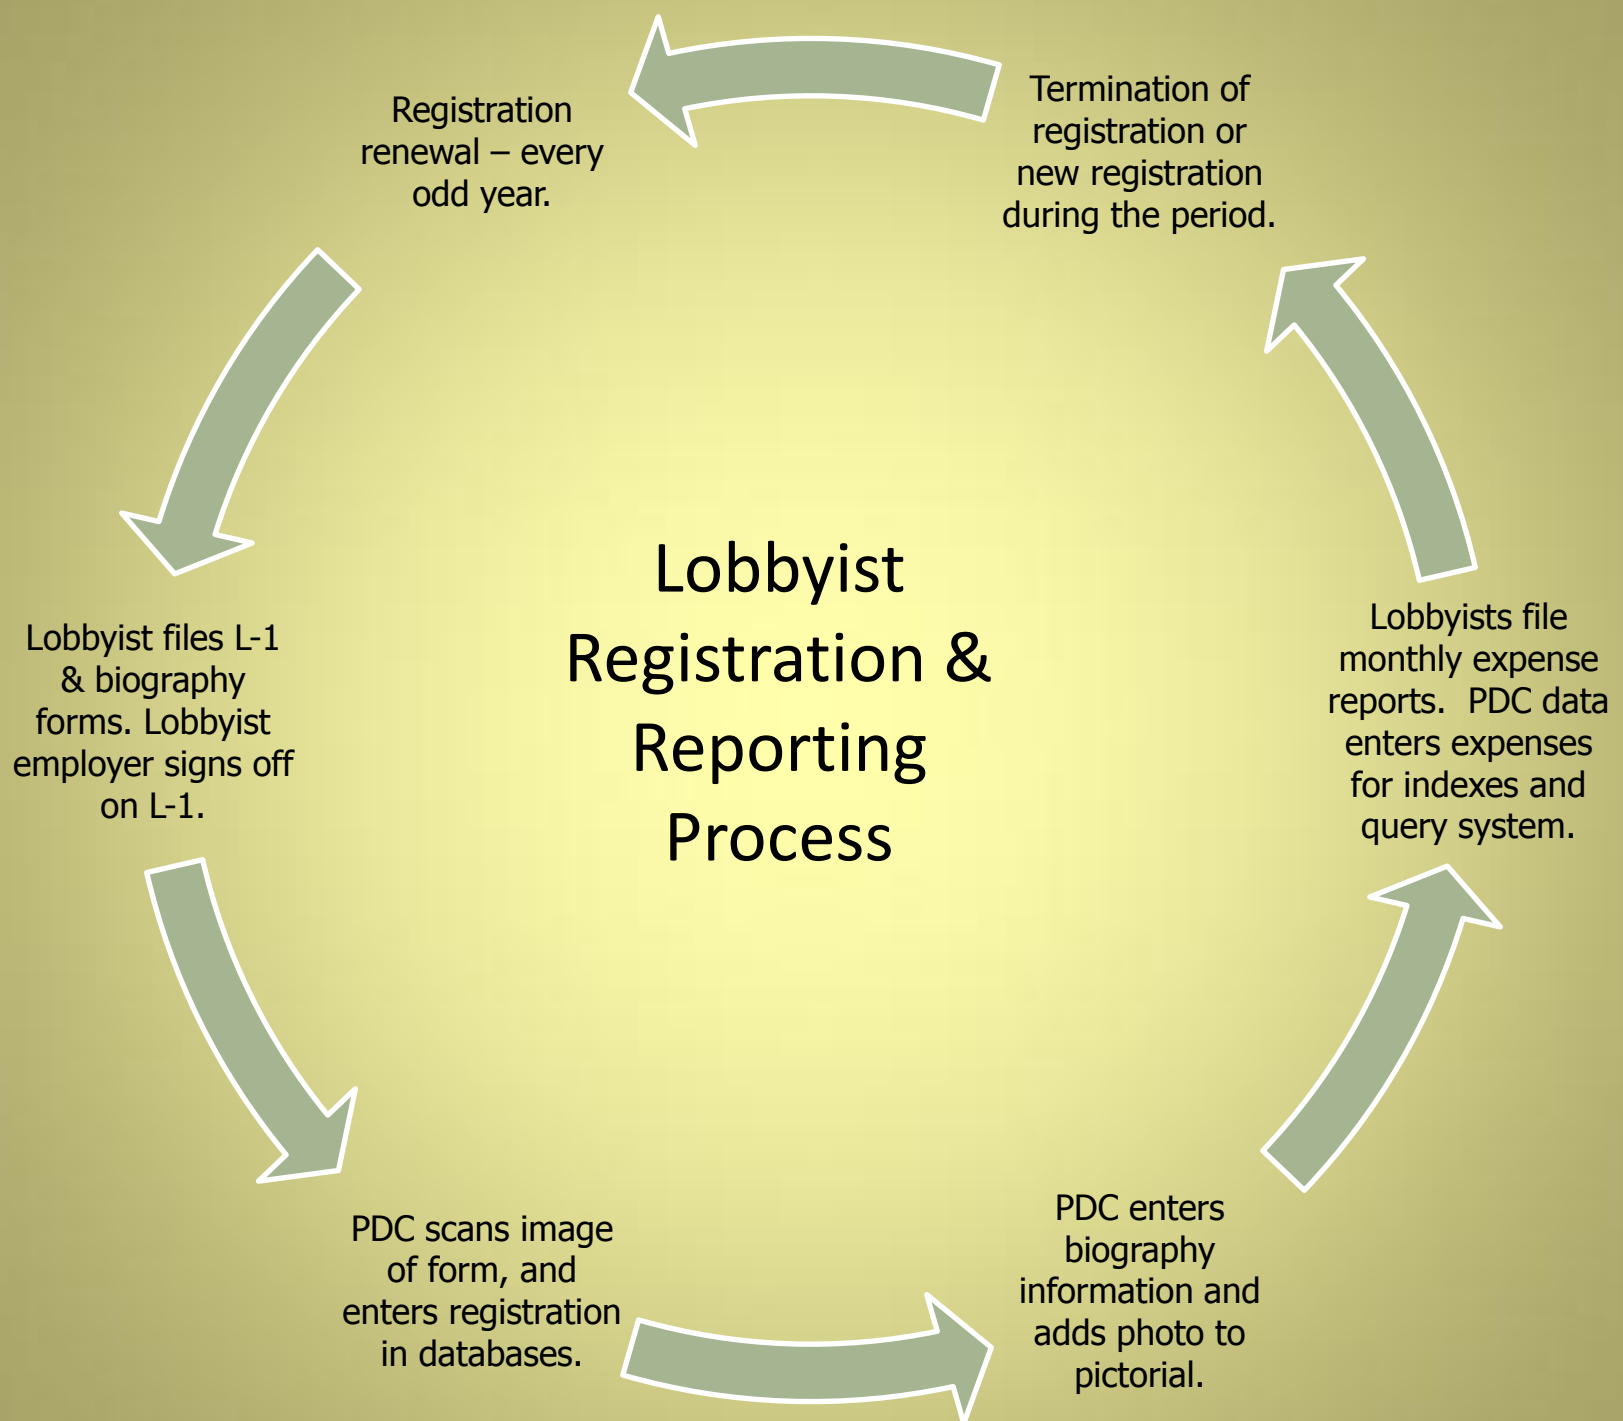

PDC scans image
of form, and
enters registration
in databases.

PDC enters
biography
information and
adds photo to pictorial.

Lobbyists file
monthly expense
reports. PDC data
enters expenses
for indexes and
query system.

Termination of registration or
new registration
during the period.

Registration
renewal – every
odd year.

Year First Employed as a Lobbyist: 1991

Patrick Winston Dunn Pat graduated from Lakeside School and Williams College. He received his law degree from Hofstra Law School and a Masters of Public Administration from what is now the Robert F. Wagner School of New York University. Pat worked as Administrative Assistant and Administrative Counsel for King County Executive John Spillman. After Mr. Spillman was elected Governor, Pat was assistant director of the Planning and Community Affairs Agency, special assistant to the Governor, and Director of the then new Department of Community Development. After his state service, Pat joined the Seattle law firm of Rodell, Williams, Sulist & Walchewski and later Heller, Zeman, White & McCulliff. Pat and Susan Dunn established Patrick Dunn & Associates, Ltd. in April of 1995. The firm represents clients before the Washington State Legislature and state and local agencies. Pat and Susan's older daughter, Sara Kirschman, is a staff attorney for the State of Washington Department of Health. Their son-in-law, Eric Kirschman, is an investigator with the Attorney General's Office. Their younger daughter, Katherine Varnell Dunn, is a senior at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts. Their first grandchild and new member of the firm, Cooper Lee Kirschman, was born on July 5, 2011.
